THE BALTHI OF 1951

PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF
BALDWIN HIGH SCHOOL
PITTSBURGH, PENNSYLVANIA

Foreword

A tree may symbolize the growth and achievement of a school. Weak and immature at first, it grows rapidly in its first years until it reaches the stage where the growth slows to a gradual overall expansion. Our school is now at that stage. Through a year this development continues almost imperceptibly. The purpose of this annual is to serve as a record of the events and accomplishments of a school year.

The Alma Mater

Baldwin High, our Alma Mater,
We'll be true to you
In our work and in our travels,
All the long years through.
Joy we've seen and sadness, too,
But this the bond made strong
Through the years that are before us
We'll remember you.

Dedication

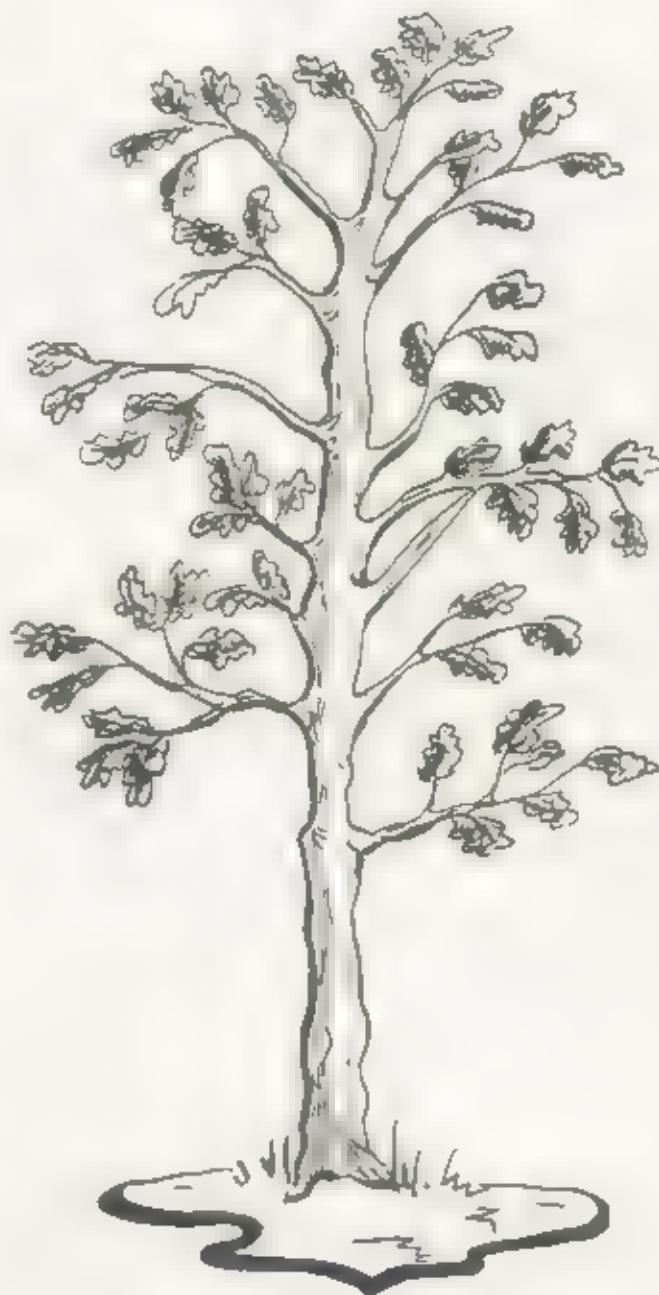

A completely successful school or business career requires not only academic knowledge, but the quality of leadership. This quality is displayed by some of our classmates who are willing to take the responsibilities and opportunities offered at Baldwin in the classroom or in extra-curricular activities. Leaders are those students who have given their talents, energy, and leisure time to such activities as athletics, music, journalism, or any of the school's service or recreational clubs. The entire school benefits from the efforts of these leaders.

Therefore, in recognition of their services, the class of nineteen hundred and fifty one proudly dedicates this book to the student leaders.

The School Board

The school board is composed of seven people who are interested in the progress of the community. Willingly they devote much of their spare time in planning the improvement of the school system. They meet regularly the first Tuesday of every month and attend many special meetings. Their principal duty is to see that the school system functions smoothly. They allot the money required for school supplies and other items required in the budget. The board also hires teachers on the recommendation of the Supervising Principal.

Wilbert C. Brandtonies

Principal

Mr. Brandtonies has a Bachelor of Science degree from Waynesburg College and a Master of Education degree from the University of Pittsburgh. He came to Baldwin in 1939 and taught biology for seven years. He was appointed vice-principal in 1942 and became principal in 1946. His duties include the scheduling of classes, advising in the selection of teachers and textbooks, and the control of school discipline. One of his biggest jobs this year was directing the faculty evaluation committees.

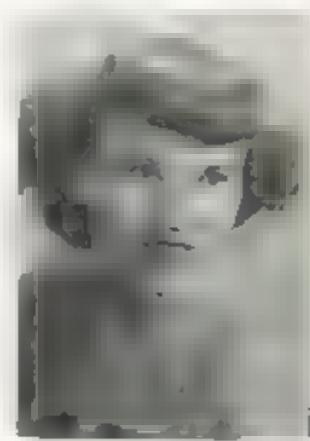

Elmer J. McGibbeny

Assistant Principal

Mr. McGibbeny acquired both his Bachelor of Science degree and his Master of Education degree from the University of Pittsburgh. He entered Baldwin during its first year as an algebra teacher. He is now teaching solid geometry and trigonometry. He became assistant principal in 1946, when Mr. Brandtonies was appointed principal. He has the burdensome task of checking attendance and issuing excuses. He also arranges the bus schedules and escorts the students to their buses each afternoon.

Secretary

Since Mrs. Boni left the office, Mrs. Simmons, the school secretary, has been assisted by a few girls from the Secretarial Service Club. Mrs. Simmons' duties include operating the switch board, maintaining the student file, and doing most of the school's clerical work.

Class History

A student's senior year is the busiest and perhaps the most important in his high school career. Certainly this year's Senior Class has never been as active before. The seniors set their pace early in September when class pictures were taken and name cards selected. A series of aptitude tests were opened to the class when the Business Training Institute administered tests in October, and Carnegie Tech offered tests in February. The class play was a delightful comedy, "Under Twenty" presented on February 27 and 28. The seniors had a big year for parties and dances. The first class-sponsored dance was the Christmas Dance on December 21. The seniors gathered in March for their annual class party. The biggest event of the year was the Junior-Senior Prom held on Senior Class Day at the South Hills Country Club. This dance was partly paid for by the Christmas Card Sales held during the first semester.

The class motto "In unity of aim lies our strength" is offset by the unusual colors, maroon and gray, and the extravagant flower, the white orchid.

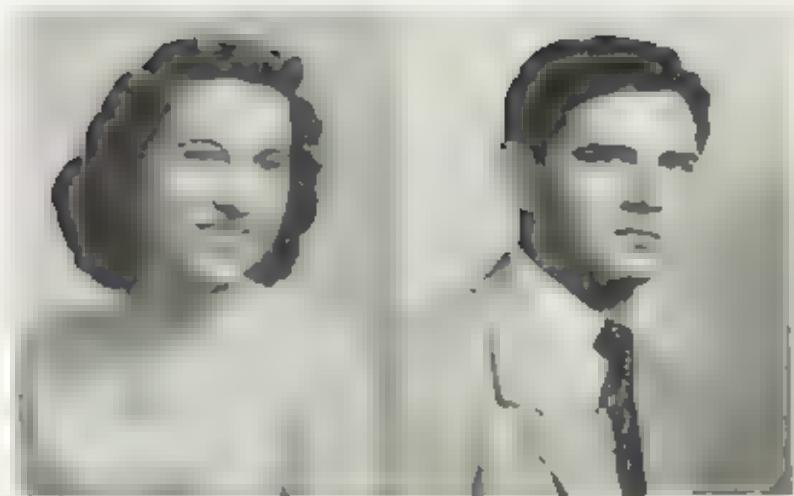

June 11 ended an extremely active and successful year for the seniors. A large part of this success can be traced to the efforts of Miss Smith, the senior class sponsor.

Many changes took place in the membership of this year's Senior Class, resulting in the loss of many faces familiar to Baldwin, and the appearance of new faces to fill the vacancies. Three of our students transferred to other schools to complete their secondary education. Dorothy Erdley spent her senior year at Linden Hall, a girls' school in eastern Pennsylvania. Carl Prinzler left for the big city and will graduate from Taylor Alderdice, while Carl Backe moved to the country where he attended Zelienople High. Charles Brieck, Jim Hammer, and Dick Stubbs felt the service called more strongly than high school and all three entered the armed forces. Wedding bells rang for June Doring, who left our class at the end of December.

New students arrived from all directions to Baldwin's "melting pot." Ken Benner, from Cincinnati, and Norman San Filippo, from Clairton, registered in September to spend their Senior year with us. Jean Dunsmore brought her singing talent from our rival, Brentwood.

The north and the south were big contributors to Baldwin this year. New York sent a bundle of energy in the form of David Van Praag. Joanne Alford, a Georgia belle, created a sensation with her southern drawl. Lee Sweeney, a native of Texas, arrived at the mid-year term. One of the later arrivals was Jim Boyle, who hailed from Carrick.

Dick was our classmate throughout his school career. Some knew him only in their days at Baldwin High. His kind and thoughtful disposition became apparent even after a short friendship.

Dick attended all of the sports events and dances. He was outstanding in all of his subjects and was especially talented in art. His ability to get along with people won him the respect of both teachers and students. These qualities coupled with the bravery he exhibited in the face of overwhelming odds made him the best loved of the senior class.

JAMES R. WOOD

Several years ago our class was saddened by the loss of Jim Wood. His happy disposition, high scholastic standing, and friendly attitude made him very popular.

He was a tall, dark, good-looking boy who liked the out-of-doors.

Track and basketball were outstanding in his activities schedule. His plans for the future were centered around the field of engineering.

We've missed Jim's cheery "life of the party" manner.

Class History

The Juniors returned to a new regime this year; the girls reported to the home economics rooms, and the boys to rooms 32 and 203.

The class's activities commenced in November when the annual class party was held in the gym and cafeteria.

The Juniors lived up to their motto, "The surest way not to fail is to determine to succeed," when they successfully presented their play, "Pistol Pete," despite a series of misfortunes.

January proved to be a hard month for the eleventh grade. The class was not only exposed to mid-year exams but also to a new type of test, the maturity test, which was administered to the boys and girls separately in the cafeteria. During the lull between basketball season and the spring sports, the boys created six teams to participate in intramural sports.

The class is sponsored by Mrs. Shea, who is also the class English teacher. The group is represented by its colors, green and white, and its flower is the rose.

Class History

The transition from the ninth to the tenth grade brings about some sweeping changes. The first of these innovations is the chance for Sophomores to choose their curriculum. Opportunities to join clubs and to join in school activities became more numerous to the tenth grade. One organization devoted exclusively to Sophomores is the Biology Club. The class is to be noted for the number of boys who are outstanding in athletics.

Another change which tends to bring the class into a tighter unit is the election of class officers and the guidance of a class sponsor.

The first job of the class executives and their sponsor, Mr. Conner, was to direct the selection of a class flower, motto, and colors. As a result of this poll, the Sophomores selected the white carnation as their flower, "Love all, trust a few, do wrong to none", as their motto, and the colors, maroon and white.

The last undertaking of the Sophomores was their class party which was held in the gym on April 13.

Activities

The activities program at Baldwin allows each student to branch out into many fields. Such a program fosters well rounded personalities.

The Balthi

Editor	Richard Davidson
Co-Editor	Rita LaRosa
Business	Phil McConaghey
Art	Pat McCormick
Features	Eileen Erskine
Organizations	Mary Lou Niro
Sports	Dave Williams
Typing	Jean Leech

Under the sponsorship of Miss Kirkland, the Balthi staff worked diligently to collect and organize all articles. The features staff, with Eileen Erskine as editor, gathered information about every senior. The activities staff took care of the collection of information about clubs, and was edited by Mary Lou Niro, while the sports staff accurately accounted for all athletic news, with Dave Williams as editor. Pat McCormick and her art staff added the finishing touches, while Jean Leech's typing staff busily kept the book in readable condition. The fellow that has a few gray hairs from financial worries is Phil McConaghey. The editor-in-chief was Richard Davidson and the co-editor was Rita LaRosa.

The happy look on the faces of our classmates when the Purbalite is distributed is the big reward to the staff of the newspaper.

The Purbalite is published six times during the school year, usually on holidays or special occasions at school. It consists of four pages, the first being news, edited by Richard Davidson; the second and fourth devoted to school quibs, edited by Terry Carlin and Barbara Komlyn; the third page for the sport news, edited by Jim Schwadron. Editor-in-chief was Betty Woods. The proofreaders were Dotty Lyle and Beverly Brock and the typists were Bette Bennett and Carol Gallagher.

The entire work of the Purbalite is done after school hours. Often the editors have assembled the paper in the wee hours of the morning.

The name, "Purbalite," originated from PURple, BALdwin, and whIte.

The Junior Class Play

Early in December, the Junior Class presented "Pistol Pete," a western comedy in three acts. Due to inclement weather only one performance was given.

The cast, under the capable direction of Mr. Trimble, should be commended for their presentation of the play.

Special mention must be given to the performance of George Langol, who at the last minute, substituted for John Komenic, who received a back injury and was hospitalized.

The Senior Class Play

On February 28, the Senior Class presented a smash hit, "Under Twenty" directed by Mrs. Shea. The action of the comedy centered around a set of twins, who, with good intentions, made everybody's business their own. The family overlooked the seriousness of the situation until the police entered the picture. During a series of romantic entanglements, and a mistaken misdemeanor involving a juvenile delinquent, the family was in a state of turmoil, but just as the troubles were solved they began anew.

The Music Department

The purpose of extra-curricular activities in a school is to stimulate group interest and promote natural talents. Surely no other department achieves the goal to such a great extent as the Music Department of Baldwin High School.

Most of our extra-curricular activities are limited to Senior High membership, but the music department encourages Junior High participation as well.

Upon entrance into the seventh grade, a boy or girl may enroll in the Junior High Chorus or have instrumental lessons and have a place in the Beginner's Band or the Advanced Band. Later, select members may participate in the Orchestra.

A student in tenth, eleventh, or twelfth grade may become a member of the Senior Chorus and Mixed Chorus. Extremely talented Senior High girls may compete for a position in the Ensemble.

One of the most popular special music groups is the Dance Band which represents very select instrumentalists.

Several specialized groups which belong to the Music Department but are often classed as independent groups are the Highlanders, Majorettes, and Cheerleaders.

The satisfaction derived from participation in any of these groups is the reward for the efforts put forth by the students.

The Orchestra

The orchestra is one of the well-known groups around Baldwin. Its rehearsals may be heard any Tuesday or Thursday during the seventh period. It is composed of a few advanced band members and a string section. The music is presented for assemblies and special programs, such as the class plays and graduation exercises. The orchestral music is usually classical with the exception of a few well-done popular numbers. An added attraction this year has been the arrangement of the Alma Mater March by Mr. McIlroy.

Seiler, G. Seiler, P. Seiler, Thompson, Vondermast, Weber, White, Woods

The Band

Of all the organizations necessary for an outstanding school, perhaps the Band is the most essential.

Our Band is not only outstanding as a marching outfit, but it is equally as capable when playing semi-classical and classical music. The Band's pride and joy is the annual Band Concert in which the members combine their talents to present a thoroughly enjoyable program which is presented for the student audience and also for the public.

A point system, inaugurated by Mr. McIlroy for both the band and orchestra members, has proven effective in determining grades. It is also by this chart that Mr. McIlroy awards the letters that are worn so proudly by the group.

The Highlanders

Since the Highlanders are a part of the band, they are directed by Mr. McIlroy. Miss Pensom assists when new dance routines are to be presented. The Scotch lassies make a picturesque appearance in their plaid kiltie skirts with matching hats, their long sleeved white blouses, with bright red jackets and knee socks to match. Tommy Timmins, wearing the true kiltie costume, led the Highlanders by playing his unique bagpipes. This group typifies the Highlander symbol of our school.

The Majorettes

Little needs to be said about these four girls, known by every faithful Baldwinite. Their appearance as they strut down the field has impressed all who have seen them. The high standards established by Mr. McIlroy, and the keen competition have made our majorettes alert. The high steppers this year have done a fine job in proving their responsible position.

Senior Chorus

The Senior Chorus directed by Mr. Conner, consists of tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grade students, who are always willing to put on a good performance. They sing at the annual Christmas program and many other special festivities. They can be heard practicing almost every morning, first period in room 103. Their blending voices prove their long known success.

Junior Chorus

The Junior Chorus is a big part of the musical programs at Baldwin. It is made up of seventh, eighth, and ninth grade members and meets every day seventh period. Mr.

Conner puts on performances with this chorus at the Spring Festival and Junior High assemblies. Their talent is well recognized by every Baldwin student.

Girls' Ensemble

Something new has been added to the music department. The Ensemble is made up of twelve girls with outstanding voices. They perform at many social functions, civic clubs, and many special activities. They have been chosen from a group of senior high girls. Everyone who hears them agrees that Mr. Conner has done a wonderful job.

Dance Band

The dance band which has been in operation for over two years has steadily increased in popularity. Under the direction of Mr. Campbell, it has performed for many of our activities and those of neighboring schools. Practice meetings are held on Wednesday evenings in the auditorium. This year for the first time, the band features a girl vocalist.

The membership is not limited to any particular grade.

The National Honor Societies

The National Honor Society is an organization honoring exceptional students. This group is divided into two units, the Forrit Chapter representing the Senior High, and the Starn Chapter for the Junior High. The junior division has charge of the show case exhibits, and bulletin boards. The senior society schedules and conducts the senior assembly programs. The qualifications for membership limit the society to students outstanding not only in scholarship but in extra-curricular activities. Requirements for the Forrit Chapter are two A's in major subjects and a B or better in all others. This group also requires that each member participate in two school activities. The Starn Chapter has the same scholarship stipulations. Due to the lack of extra-curriculum in the Junior High the activities qualification is dropped in favor of high character references.

Student Senate

Under the supervision of Mr. Harrison, the Student Senate is comprised of a representative and one alternate from each home room. The meetings are held when called by the president. At these meetings business is carried on pertaining to school affairs such as; the Brent-Car-Bal, held at Baldwin this year, and taking charge of ticket sales. This year the Student Senate instituted a hall monitor system. This organization deserves the gratitude and thanks of all for the fine things they have accomplished.

Hall Monitors

This year Baldwin had a new addition to its list of organizations. The hall monitor system under the direction of Mr. Horson proved to be a worthy project. The duties of the student monitors include; checking hall passes, keeping the halls clear, maintaining orderly conduct throughout the building, and extending information to visitors. It is composed of eleventh and twelfth grade students who could afford to devote a regular study period to this project.

Hi - Y

The Hi-Y, made up of junior and senior boys, is sponsored by Mr. Abrams. As a branch of the Y. M. C. A. it meets every other Thursday evening. The president, Larry Servich, conducts a short business meeting, which is followed by some form of recreation in the gym. Other officers were: vice-president, Dick Eisengart; secretary, Jack Smith; treasurer, Sam Parinella; delegate, Dick Kording

Y - Teens

The Y-Teens consists of a group of junior and senior girls, under the sponsorship of Miss Rust, who are civic minded and have a desire for fellowship. One of their most important projects every year is dressing dolls to be sent overseas at Christmas time. They also have charge of the annual Military Ball. This year's officers were: president, Mary Lou Niro; vice-president, Eileen Erskine; secretary, Rita LaRosa; treasurer, Nancy Walton; and representative, Carol Thompson.

Library Club

One of the best-known clubs in Baldwin is the Library Club, sponsored by Miss Minetti. Its members can always be seen scurrying about doing their various jobs in the library. Their work behind the desk is always interesting, as they never know what is going to happen next. The members this year featured an assembly in November entitled "Off The Shelf." Officers were: president, Sally Enkoff; secretary, Betty Krae; treasurer, Mary Lou Niro.

Secretarial Service Club

The Secretarial Service Club is composed of 35 senior girls, who have the ability to type and take dictation. Under the capable direction of Miss Moser, the girls aid the teachers in secretarial work; such as stenciling tests, operating the ditto and mimeograph machine, and doing clerical work in the high school office. These girls are to be commended for their valuable and necessary assistance to the faculty.

Chemistry Club

The Chemistry Club was reorganized this year to aid and encourage Baldwin's future scientists. It is composed of sixteen seniors, all of whom have at least a "B" in chemistry. Members not only receive valuable instruction from Mr. Sinclair, but also enjoy themselves while developing their skill in the use of various chemicals. Formal meetings are held the first and third Monday of every month, after school in room 121.

Leaders Club

Good sportsmanship and responsibility are only two of the fine qualities that are expressed by the girls of the Leaders Club. The club is composed of girls who have acquired sufficient points in intramurals and a "B" average in gym. The duties of the members are to assist Miss Pensom with her numerous classes and refereeing the after school games to the best of their ability. Meetings are held every other Wednesday night. The officers this year were: Eileen Erskine—president; Olive Holmes—vice-president; Barbara Irwin —secretary.

The Tumbling Team

The Tumbling Team is an organization consisting of girls from the senior high, who are interested in acrobatics and have a certain amount of talent. To be eligible for membership, a girl must be able to do any five stunts.

After a series of practice sessions, Miss Pensom, the sponsor, selects those girls who appear ready to become members.

Meetings are held every Tuesday after school, in the gym.

Chess Club

Glancing into Room 203, we may see many students engaged in the intricate game of chess.

Under the able guidance of Mr. Merritt, a newcomer to Baldwin, the members learn the fundamental moves of the various chessmen. Meetings are held every other week and the more skilled students compete against each other in tournaments. It is not necessary to know the game of chess before joining.

Sound & Stage Crews

The boys "behind the scenes" in our school comprise the stage crew. They assist their sponsor, Mr. Sullivan, in preparing the stage for the class plays, band concerts, and auditorium programs. Construction and maintenance of stage props are their specific responsibilities.

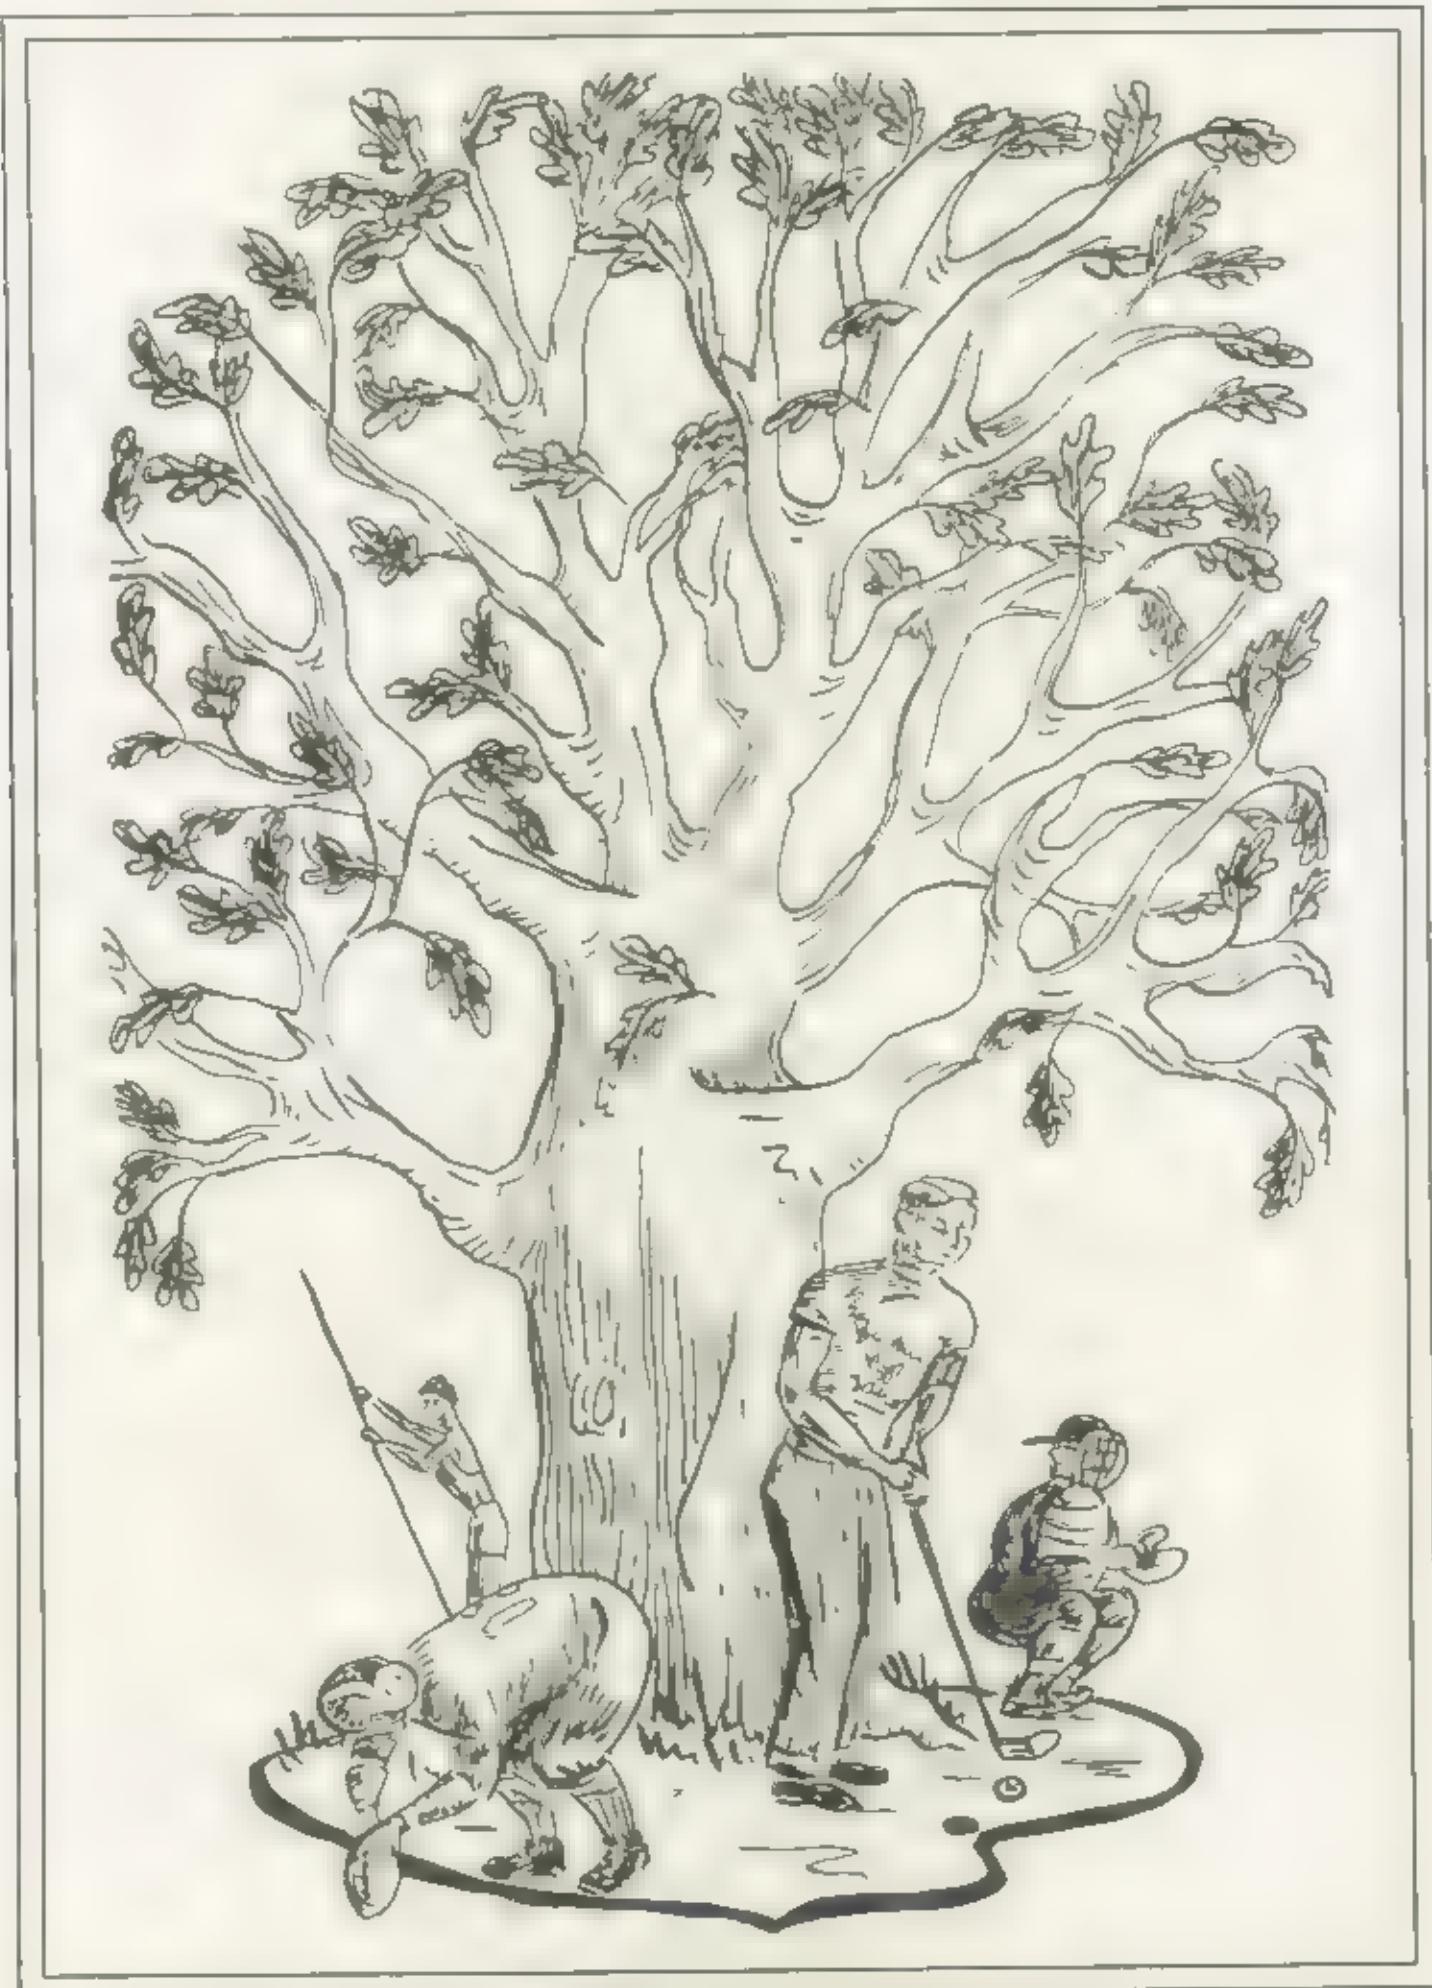

The Sound Crew, a relative of the Stage Crew, was created this year and is sponsored by Mr. McIlroy. The organization was formed to take charge of the movie projector and tape recorders, as well as the microphones, stage lighting, and audio systems.

Athletics

Physical development goes hand in hand with mental ability. Athletics teach an ideal of democracy—the ability to cooperate with others.

Football

Tying three games and losing six, the Highlander Team had an unsuccessful season. The boys practiced hard for three weeks before the first game; one of these weeks being spent at Camp Corbley. The team entered every game determined to win, but the breaks were against them.

This year's team was co-captained by Richard Ross, fullback and quarterback, and Jack Smith, center. The coaching staff consisted of Mr. Eureka, head coach; Mr. Weaver, backfield coach, and Mr. Schmuker, line coach. Mr. Giovanni, the grade school gym teacher, assisted the regular coaching staff. These men worked hard and tried their best to give us a good team.

Baldwin 12

East McKeesport 12

Baldwin opened their season by battling the opponent to a tie. Baldwin led in first downs seventeen to five, but two goalward drives in the first quarter were halted due to three fifteen yard penalties. Scrappy Ross scored on a two yard plunge. East McKeesport snapped back and scored two touchdowns. Ross again hit the middle and scored from two yards out, but Eisengart's try for the extra point was blocked.

Baldwin 13

Brentwood 19

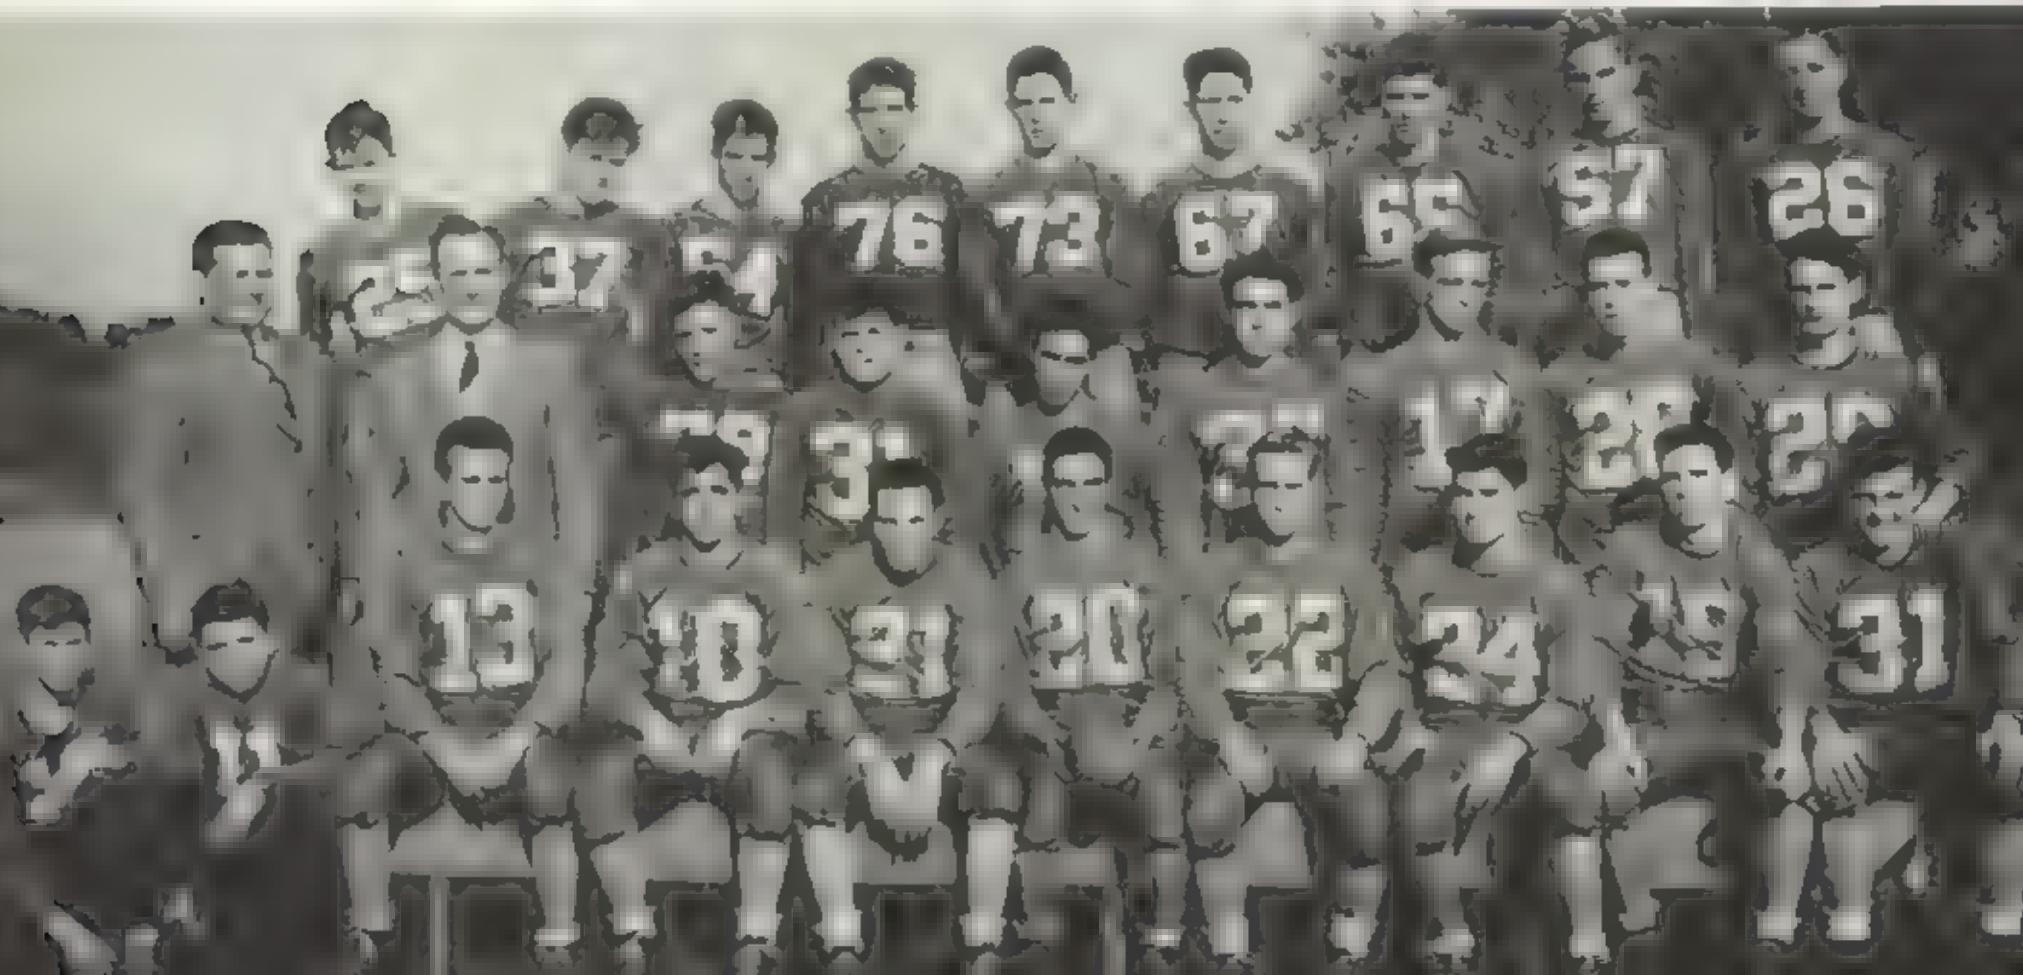

In the first Triadic Conference game of the season the Highlanders were virtually eliminated from the running for the Triadic Award. The first blood was drawn by Brentwood, but Baldwin bounced back with Jack Wagner, the fullback, scoring for Baldwin. Eisengart added the extra point. Brentwood scored twice in the next few minutes Parinella bulled over from the ten. In the second half, both teams were pretty evenly matched and neither one scored.

Baldwin 6

Swissvale 6

Baldwin journeyed to Swissvale to battle on a wet and muddy field. Scrappy Ross scored the first and only touch down for the Highlanders, but the try for the extra point failed. With less than four minutes to go, Swissvale scored on a punt return but failed to make the point after touch down. Again Baldwin returned home with a tie for the second time in three starts.

Carrick 20

Baldwin 0

Homestead 7

Baldwin was blanked by Carrick 20-0 to erase all hopes of tying the Triadic Conference. Moore and Kaufman were hurt in the opening moments of the game which was a great loss to the Highlanders. The Baldwin gridders fought a hard but losing battle. Carrick was too much for Baldwin.

The officials gained more yardage in this game than either backfield. Al Reid failed to hold onto three perfect passes which might have meant the difference between winning and losing. Homestead did their scoring in the first half. Parinella played a good defensive game and stopped a "Steeler" scoring drive in the fourth quarter.

Baldwin 6

McKees Rocks 13

Baldwin 7

West View 41

The Highlanders traveled to McKees Rocks in an attempt to break into the winning column. Baldwin tallied in the opening stanza when Ross flipped a thirty yard pass to Al Reid in the end zone, but Baldwin failed to convert. McKees Rocks scored in the second and fourth quarters. Baldwin failed to capitalize on a fumble, which Simoni recovered on the "Rocks" eight, not having the necessary punch to produce a score.

Baldwin played their worst game of the season. The Highlanders had no defense against the passing of West View which gave them the winning margin by scoring five touchdowns on passes. The only good factor of the game was a forty yard sprint by Parinella for a touchdown with Eisengart converting.

Baldwin 7

Bethel 7

Baldwin 7

Dormont 30

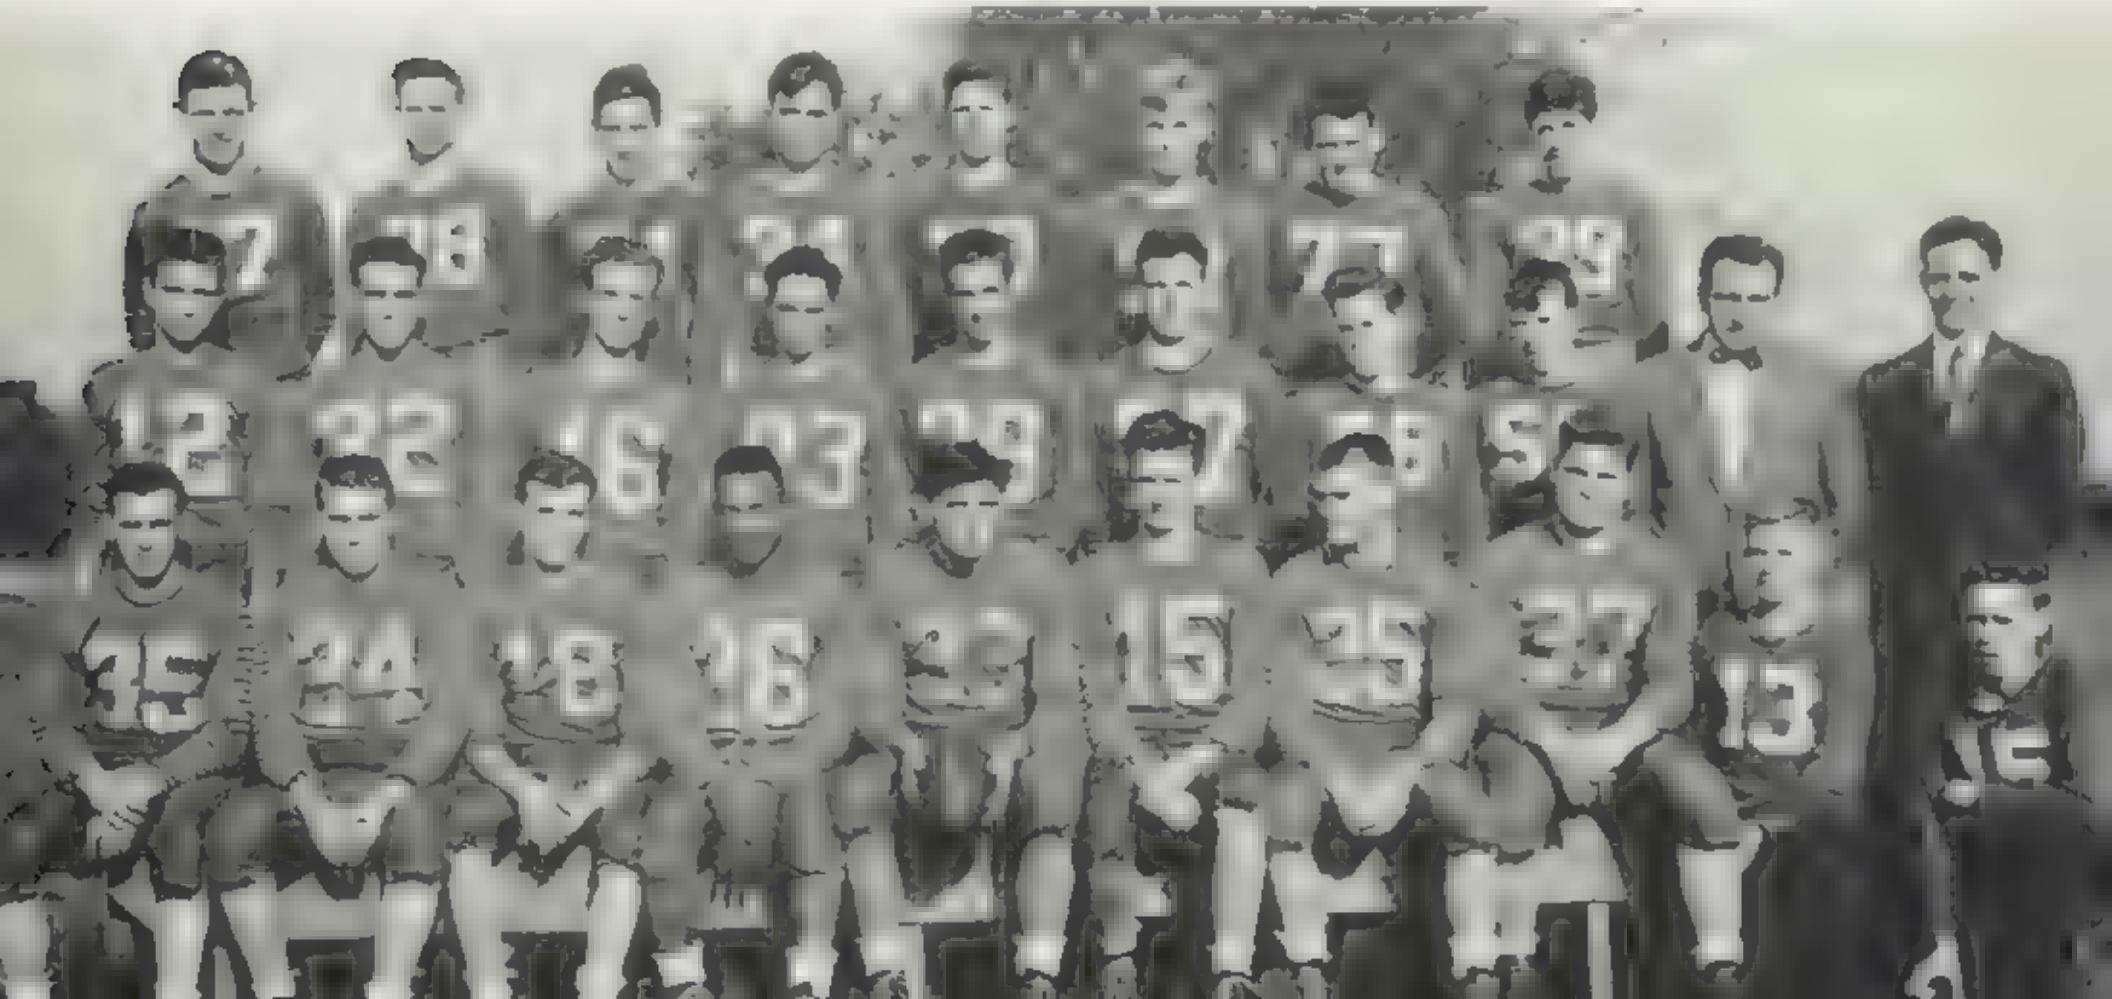

The Highlanders took the lead in the opening period when Sam Parinella intercepted a Bethel pass on his own ten and raced 90 yards to pay dirt. Eisengart converted. Bethel capitalized on a Baldwin fumble, scored, and added the extra point. Parinella, in the fourth quarter made successive runs of 25, 23, and 15 yards but could not penetrate beyond the six. Field goal attempts by both teams failed, leaving the game in a deadlock.

In the lost game of the season, the second string started the game. Fumbles by this team set up the first two Dormont touchdowns. This year's varsity entered the game in the second quarter. In the second half, Baldwin looked like a new team and played with a will to win. Parinella broke through the Dormont line and drove forty yards for a touchdown, in the fourth quarter. Eisengart converted.

Senior Varsity

The Baldwin High "Quintet" coached by William Jesko, found itself this year in a tough section. Battling such teams as Mt. Lebanon, Dormont, and Brentwood, the squad held its own when the going got rough. To stop the opposition, the Highlanders used primarily the zone defense, but while on the offense they worked a deliberate style of basketball, making the enemy come to them. When behind, the "Hoopsters" never gave up. They always had that "go get them" spirit.

Junior Varsity

The "jay-vees" under the experienced eye of George Aiken showed steady improvement as the season progressed. The team outshone the varsity, winning 5 games out of 21. All their games are played preceding the varsity games. Each year's varsity is selected from the outstanding players of the previous year's junior varsity, therefore interest in this sub team and its games should be nearly as keen as the interest in the senior varsity.

Junior High

Mr. Weaver and his Junior High squad completed a satisfactory season this year, winning 11 out of 17 games. The team contended for a spot in the play offs all season. They scored 662 points against 578 for the opponents. These results were accomplished by hard work and perseverance. The squad used primarily a zone defense, and based their offense on the pivot man. The team's ability to control the banking boards was the main reason for the success of their offense and defense.

Senior High Cheerleaders

These are our cheerleaders—always ready and always on the go. These girls are a vital part of the morale and the will to win, of the Baldwin student body. No matter how cold the weather or how muddy the field, these purple and white clad lassies are filled with a "million dollars" worth of school spirit.

Under the direction of Mr. Conner these girls are chosen for their ability to cheer as well as for neatness and sportsmanship. The selected captain this year was Mary Lou Niro, assisted by co-captain, Sally Enkoff. Much credit is due to our faithful six.

Junior High Cheerleaders

Ala Kanee Kanak Kanak! That familiar cry can be heard at every Junior High basketball game. These peppy girls are selected and coached by Mr. Conner. They must be in the eighth or ninth grade and maintain a "C" or better average throughout the year. Their captain this year was Nancy Allen and her assistant was Rita Cofsky.

Baseball

As usual, the big attraction again this spring was baseball. Many eager newcomers turned out for practice as did the veterans of last year's squad. Boys returning were infielders, J. Scrabis, Simoni, Moore, Reid, and Lapinski; batterymen, Schwadron and Parinella; and outfielders, Steiner and Rall. A few newcomers who showed promise were B. Scrabis and Eisenbarth.

For the third straight year, Mr. Campbell did a fine job of organizing and coaching the team.

Track

The track team offered a wide variety of activities to its members this year. The large tryout group was narrowed down to a few boys willing to practice daily. These boys then participated in field events such as discus, shot put, pole vault, high jump, and broad jump, or in any of the track events such as the 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 440 yard dash, and the mile. Mr. Schmuker coached the team.

Golf

The Baldwin High School golf team, perennial section V winners, are tried and true champions. Although never actually winning a W. P. I. A. L. title, Baldwin has never lost a section battle in its eleven years of existence. Until two years ago the Baldwin golfers had posted ninety-eight straight sectional victories without a defeat. The boys whose job it was to uphold this winning tradition this year were: Jake Knoedler, Pete Kostanich, Dick Kording, Richard Davidson, Jim Zoccola, and Jack McNamara.

Varsity Lettermen

Membership in this club is limited to the boys who earned a letter in football, basketball, baseball, track, or golf. Every boy who gets a letter is automatically a member. Meetings are held every other Thursday to conduct business and to play basketball or some other game. Mr. Jesko sponsors this boys' organization.

The Cafeteria Staff

The ladies in our cafeteria can be depended upon to keep the counter filled with hot food, clean silverware, milk, salads, and desserts while they last. Their work begins in the morning, reaches its peak during the three lunch periods, and ends when they have cleaned the kitchen. Mr. Rugani, the director of the kitchen staff, sees that the students have the choice of a variety of foods.

Pete Gregori, John Piel, Walter Datig

Custodians

The janitors are the maintenance crew of our school building. It is their responsibility to care for the furnace, sweep the halls, make minor repairs, cut the grass, and clean the walks. They are always on the job, working in three shifts, tending the school, day and night.

Eleanor Reid, Emma Simmons, Betty Peach

Assistant Custodians

These women begin their work as soon as school is dismissed. They relieve the custodians of such duties as sweeping the rooms, dusting, and straightening the chairs. They polish the brass fixtures, wash windows, and remove spots on the walls. All of us who remain after school appreciate their friendliness.
